Engaging your Staff-Why Bother?

The benefits of staff engagement are recognised by a wide range of organisations large and small, across varied sectors both private and public - yet it can be an elusive quest for many. Large scale and rapid changes happening in global business bring significant challenges relating to staff engagement. As leaders we know that change can cause our people to feel overwhelmed, unsure, left behind or disenchanted. In turn, during these times we ourselves may be distracted from recognising and addressing the opportunities that arise.

In this Masterclass we will look at the impact of leaders taking personal responsibility in the realm of engagement and show what transformational benefits this can deliver to staff, shareholders & customers.

Emotionally Intelligent Leadership-The Difference that makes the Difference

Leaders in organisations today are expected to be all manner of things – charismatic, transformational, mindful, servant-like, ethical, visionary, inspirational; the list goes on. Isn't 'emotionally-intelligent' just another one of these buzz-phrases?

Emotional intelligence is not an optional extra – since the inception of the idea in the 1980s it is now recognised as a fundamental part of personal effectiveness at all levels in an organisation, including leadership. Studies have shown that people with high EI have greater mental health, exemplary job performance, and more potent leadership skills.

In this Masterclass we will look at the traits and skills of emotionally intelligent leaders; the styles that they use; how they take a context-based and adaptive approach to leadership based upon their judgement of the situation and their followers. We will see the benefits of EI translating into enhanced leadership role-modelling, improved business relationships and positive personal impact.
